Summary

The month of April is always time-consuming, providing details of the yearend figures and explanations/comments to the Internal and External Auditors. The Internal Auditors report has been circulated for discussion and the External Auditors details will be sent shortly. Their final report will be due at the end of September. In addition, the Public have the rite to examine the accounts during a 30-day window and the Statutory Notice will soon be issued.

A recent Government dictate has put a requirement on banks to have full details of their customers. Barclays and Nationwide are required to update their records which is causing some, in my opinion, unnecessary work!!
